The net decline of over four points in Sugar Refining caused a moderate selling throughout the remainder of the list. The most proed-effect, however, was the repression o speculation; for the market in the early deal-ings and before the weakness in Sugar Refining became pronounced, showed a tendency to advance. The London mar-ket for American securities was fractionally higher, and there were indications of a resumption of the foreign buying movement that was a feature of the market last week. Moreover, the feeling was very strong that the money market has reached a turning point, a circumstance that, together with other favorable developments affecting values, such as milway traffic returns and trade conditions, encouraged some buying both through com-mission houses and by local dealers. The facthat Sugar Refining supplied very nearly onehalf of the total transactions, which were not unusually large, demonstrates that many behold aloof from the market until the decline in the leading industrial stock has practically run its course.

In less than half a dozen other stocks did the transactions foot up more than 10,000 shares. Even the recent leaders of the market, the maller scale than they have been for a long time past. None of the net declines was important, and in the majority of cases they did not exceed fractions. A few stocks, notably American Tobacco, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Baltimore and Ohio and a number of the less active issues, closed fractionally higher than on Saturday. New York Air Brake enjoyed a further phenomenal rise of 10 points, which is explained on the theory that the sale of the Walker Electric Company to the Westinghouse Company might logically be followed by the transfer of the New York Air Brake enterprise, which is controlled by substantially the same capitalists as the Walker Company, to the Westinghouse Company. A number of stocks though not dealt in extensively, showed exceptional firmness throughout, among United States Leather preferred, and Chicago Great Western. In the final dealings the mar-kee railied, and the closing was in the main steady. Seceipts of gold from Europe to-day were $400,000. No new engagements were announced, but they are foreshadowed by the sale of $500,000 gold by the Bank of England.
